React Day Norway 2022

We are very happy to announce that React Day Norway 2022 will be an exclusive in-person event. June 24th we will be back at Farris Bad by the seaside in the south of Norway. We will push both knowledge and networking for everyone and to everyone.

In addition to the 250 tickets on sale for the event we will also stream live on our website. This will be an outstanding full-day conference where renowned speakers and an inspired crowd of passionate developers will gather at the modern beachfront Hotel Farris Bad in the south of Norway.

Your company name will be visible to a crowd of front-end-lovers, on site and online. And no matter if you just want to have your logo and name there, if you're looking for people to hire or if you want to be there and connect in person - this is the right place!
